RETROSPECTIVE.

In a wagon made of willow,
Wheeled I once a little maiden,
Ringlets shining on the pillow,
Rolling homeward treasure laden,
Like a boat upon the billow.

Ten years fled; oh! how I missed her
When I left the village school;
But she said she'd be my sister,
As we lingered by the pool,
And I passionately kissed her.

Ten more hopeful years renew it;
Little wagon made of willow—
Loving eyes are bent to view it,
Loving hands adjust the pillow,
And we've fitted rockers to it!

HOW A FRONTIERSMAN FIGHTS INDIANS.

A Denver letter in the Cincinnati Gazette has a story of frontier life:

"My last letter closed with the arrival of our party at Godfrey's ranche, on our westward journey. This ranche is about midway between Old Julesburg and the Platte and Denver City. As this is a noted place and its proprietor a 'character,' I propose to dwell awhile.

"Old Godfrey," as he is called by travelers and himself when he is at his ranche, and "Old Wicked" when he is on his travels, is a man about sixty years of age, above the average stature, well built and firmly knit, his hair iron-gray, his eye keen and undimmed, his shoulders slightly bent by time, hardships, and wounds received from the Indians who are his only near neighbors, and who never visit him to take tea or drinks socially, but always do call when they think their forces large enough to take his cattle, his goods, or the scalp of the old veteran, or of some or all of his family. His watchfulness has thus far thwarted them and protected his household treasures; but they often run off his stock, and he as often succeeds in getting even with them. The ranche is built of adobe, the walls being two feet thick; the apartments are the dining-room, for travelers, a kitchen, two or three lodging-rooms, and a large room used for a sitting, wash, and store-room—the floor being rough boards. In this room are also the arms and ammunition used in defending his home from the frequent attacks of his neighbors aforesaid.

"His family consists of his wife, a frail, patient-looking woman, a daughter about eighteen, and three sons. These form the corps reserve, while one or two hired men assist in guarding against surprise and doing the work about the ranche. Outside of the house, and ten feet from it, are the fortifications, which completely surround it. The walls of defense are built of sod taken from the surface of the prairie, being about two feet thick at the bottom and one at the top, the height being five feet; near the top loop holes are frequent, affording range in all directions. Through this wall, opposite the front door, is an opening about three feet wide, and bags of sand lying near to barricade the same if required.

"The Indians, who have often by treachery and open attack tried to destroy this fort and murder its occupants, have as often been beaten, till they now have a wholesome fear of the determined Godfrey and his brave family. They hate him with a bitter hate, and declare they will yet have his hair, and Godfrey declares that they shall not.

"The bluffs are about six miles from Fort Godfrey, and distinctly visible. Behind these bluffs the Indians watch for chances. A few weeks since Godfrey saw a fine antelope near his ranche, and taking his long rifle he started in pursuit. In the excitement of the chase he failed to notice the distance, and, nearing the bluffs, a party of seven Cheyennes, who had been watching as usual, 'went for him.' The old man started, but his horse was too slow and the Indians were gaining upon him rapidly. Here experience served him. Knowing that his long rifle would reach farther than the carbines with which his pursuers were armed, he suddenly stopped his horse, took deliberate aim over the back of the steed, and laid one of the savages low. This occasioned a delay with them, which Godfrey improved. But, two taking care of the dead Indian, four followed on, and in a short time Godfrey repeated the operation, killing one more.

"This last delay saved him; but being cut off from his ranche he found shelter in another ranche, about ten miles from home. Here was now a chance for the red skins. 'Old Wicked' away, and his family without his aid. It was a chance not to be neglected, and soon about fifty attacked the fort, expecting to revel in the blood of the family of their bitter foe. The family had time to prepare for them, and received them handsomely. Mrs. Godfrey and the daughter loading, while the male members defended. The battle raged for twenty-four hours, but the determined, brave men and women held their own till the stages approached, and the Indians 'vamoosed the ranche' in double quick. Thus the pioneers of our country live in perils and dangers constantly, without aid or sympathy from the government which ought to afford them sure protection."

☞The Hartford Times advises people to get up before five o'clock in the morning and "see Venus, the beautiful morning star." A newly married man requests us to say to the Times that he can "see Venus without the trouble of rising at that unseemly hour."

A Fair Burglar.

A Dresden correspondent thus writes of what happened him on awakening in the morning, after a night's sleep in "private quarters:"

You can imagine my terror, when, upon early day our door was opened and a female form slowly and carefully glided into our room, and coming to the head of my bed, took from off the bed post my vest. I saw it all with one eye partially opened; but what could I say? I dared not make a noise, for I could not be understood if I spoke. She felt my watch and drew it out carefully, disengaging the chain from the button hole. A cold chill came over me, but I remained as quiet as a stone. She laid the watch upon the table; next took my coat, in which was my little stamps, circular notes, bills of exchange, memorandum book, passport, &c. These she gracefully drew out and placed upon the table. Next came my pants from close beside my bed. These she took. Next my overcoat, which hung upon the rack. Then she proceeded to the opposite side of the room, and performed a like ceremony with apparel of my companion, when, with our boots, she disappeared from the room. As she closed the door we both sat upright in the bed and wondered what all that meant.

We had observed the operation with a single eye, and equally fearful of making an alarm. Then I was sorry that I had not found some method to tie my camel. Here we are—two poor, blind, miserable fellows, many thousand miles from home, and not a thread to put on. I thought of my family and my neighbors' families—now they had clothing to spare, but—well, a thought occurred to me that this was the way they got so many statues for the public parks, museums and buildings. Perhaps, they take just such specimens as we and set them up. Perspiration ran down my back and I was in a cold sweat. I felt bad. I had left my watch and my money; what good is all this without wearing apparel? I have been where I wanted food and had plenty of money, but I could not buy a mouthful. Now I am in a place with money and no clothes. After these horrid forebodings had perplexed my soul for half an hour, the door again opened, and the same female entered with all our wearing apparel nicely brushed and cleaned, and our boots with the glossiest kind of a black. It is a custom of the country, that's all, and I feel better now.

BEGAN TO LAUGH.—A clerical friend at a colobrated watering place, met a lady who seemed hovering on the edge of the grave. Her cheeks were wan and hollow, her manner listless, her steps languid, and her brow wore the severe contraction so indicative both of mental and physical suffering, so that she was to all observers an object of sincerest pity.

Some years afterward he encountered this same lady, but so bright, and fresh, and youthful, so full of healthful buoyancy, and so joyous in expression, that he questioned himself with regard to identity.

"Is it possible," said he, "that I see before me Mrs. B. who presented such a doleful appearance at the springs several years ago?"

"The very same."

"And pray tell me, madam, the secret of your cure? What means did you use to attain to such vigor of mind and body, to such cheerfulness and rejuvenation?"

"A very simple remedy," returned she, with a beaming face. "I stopped worrying and began to laugh; that was all."

WOMAN.—As a dove will clasp its wings to its side, and cover and conceal the arrow that is preying on its vitals, so it is the nature of woman to hide from the world the pangs of a wounded affection. With her the desire of the heart has failed. The great charm of existence is at an end. She neglects all the cheerful exercises that gladden the spirits, quicken the pulse, and send the tide of life in cheerful currents through the veins. Her rest is broken, the sweet refreshment of sleep are poisoned by melancholy dreams, "dry sorrow drinks her blood" until her feeble frame sinks under the last external assailant. Look for her after a little while, and you will find friendship weeping over her untimely grave, and wondering that one who but lately glowed with all the radiance of health and beauty should now be brought to "darkness and the worm." You will be told of some wintry chill, some slight indisposition that laid her low, but no one knows the mental malady that previously snapped her strength, and made her so easy a prey to the spoiler.

A BED OF MARL.—The city of Charleston is built upon a bed of animalcules, hundreds of feet in thickness, every cubic inch of which is filled with perfectly preserved microscopic organisms. These shells are often in a state of surprising perfection, the most delicate markings having been perfectly preserved. The animalcules to which South Carolina owes a large part of her territory, are still at work in countless thousands on her coast, filling up her harbors more effectually than fleets of old whalers, forming shoals, and depositing their shells to record the present state of the sea margin, as their predecessors had done on the border of the ancient ocean.

☞A young lady who is up among the White Mountains, writes to a friend, confidentially: "It is delightful to climb up these hills, with a young man to help you in the steep places and eat a luncheon with you on the summit." She is evidently a young lady of taste and experience.

AN OPPORTUNE ARRIVAL.—In the year 1849 I was engaged in collecting outstanding debts due the Apalachian, a paper published in Blairsville, Indiana county, Pennsylvania, and my business led me to the Cherry Tree, at the headwaters of the Susquehanna river. It was in May, and the flowers were out in all their pristine beauty. The water in the river was still pretty high, and I had ridden some distance along the bank when my path diverged from the river side some distance, and then suddenly came back to the margin, just where the river took a turn and the water deepened. As I approached I heard some one sobbing as if in the greatest distress, and on looking down the river I discovered a young girl, apparently about fifteen or sixteen years of age, and remarkably good looking, wringing her hands and moaning in the most deplorable manner. I asked her what was the matter, and between her sobs I made out the following:

'I was playing on this—log—and—my baby fell in the water, and—th—there it goes down th—there'

And upon looking down the stream about four or five yards from the shore there floated a child, its one little hand raised above the rippling waves, while its little head and face bobbed up and down with every curve of the water.—Without a moment's thought I sprung from my horse and into the stream; a few strokes brought me up to the little 'innocent.' Carefully putting my left hand under it, and holding it almost completely out of the water with my right, I made my way to shore and carefully gathering it in my arms, I laid it gently in the arms of its little nurse; but judge of my surprise when I beheld—for I had not time to look at it before—that it was a doll baby, with a china head! On looking around for my horse, I saw him just disappearing over the hill. I gave chase, but my clothes were wet, and I didn't overtake him until I had footed it for more than seven miles. I can't bear the sight of a doll baby since. If I ever come across that girl again—well, I suppose she is a girl no longer, and has found out the difference ere this between real and doll babies; but I wonder if she remembers the stranger who rescued her darling?

EMBARRASSING CIRCUMSTANCES.—A gentlemanly conductor was collecting fares from the passengers of a very full car one morning. All paid promptly except one fat old lady, who sat next the door, and who seemed to be reaching down as if to get something she had dropped on the floor. When her time came to pay she raised her head, and thus addressed the blushing youth:

'I allers, when I travels, carry my money in my stockin', for you sees nothing can get at it thar without I feel it, and I'd thank you, young man, jist to retch it for me, as I'm so jammed in that I can't git to it."

The youth looked at the other passengers, some of whom were laughing at his plight; one or two young ladies among them blushed scarlet, and he beat a sudden retreat, muttering something about not charging old ladies, etc. His cash was short that morning the fare of one passenger.

THE PREMIUM SEWING MACHINE.—One of the kind that man can love, that wears a shawl and a soft kid glove; has the merriest eye and the daintiest foot, and sports the charmingest gaiter boot; and a bonnet with feathers, ribbons and loops, and an indefinite number of hoops. One that can dance, and possibly—flirt, and make a pudding as well as a shirt; one that can sing without dropping a stitch, and play the housewife, lady or witch; ready to give us the sagest advice, and do up our collars and things so nice. We like the sort that can laugh and talk, and take our arm for an evening walk; that will do whatever the owner may choose, with the slightest perceptible turn of the screws; 'tis the cleverest thing that ever was seen, our wonderful family sewing machino.

HAVE YOUR OWN OPINION.—The Knoxville Commercial gives a word or two of wholesome advice: Think for yourself, act for yourself, speak for yourself, honestly and independently. Woe unto any man who thinks he can get through the world by endeavoring to please everybody. All persons have a right to their own opinion, and he is a coward who dares not at the proper time and in a proper way express them. It is a false conclusion for any one to reach, if he concludes any one will respect him for suppressing the conviction of his mind. We say, judge for yourself; wear your own colors in spite of wind and weather, storms and sunshine. It costs the vascillating and irresolute ten times the trouble to shuffle and twist that it does honest, manly independence to stand its ground.

DIARY FOR A HOT WEEK.—Sunday—Day of rest; of course nothing can be done.

Monday—Being early in the week, don't be too precipitate in beginning anything.

Tuesday—Determined not to let the week go by without doing something brilliant.

Wednesday—Resolve on vigorous measures for to-morrow.

Thursday—Mature yesterday's deliberations.

Friday—Rather too late in the week to do anything.

Saturday—Give yourself up to society, and consult friends (who know best) what to do next.

☞What labor needs the world over is mind. Intelligence expressed by the hand is skill; by morals, is character; by judgment, is enterprise and success.

BE A WOMAN.

Oft I've heard a gentle mother,
As the twilight hours began,
Pleading with a son on duty,
Urging him to be a man,
But unto her blue-eyed daughter,
Though with love's words quite as ready,
Points she out the other duty—
"Strive, my dear, to be a lady."

What's a lady? Is it something
Made of hoops, and silks, and airs;
Used to decorate the parlor,
Like the fancy rings and chairs?
Is it one that wastes on novels
Every feeling that is human?
If 'tis this to be a lady,
'Tis not this to be a woman.

Mother, then, unto your daughter
Speak of something higher far,
Than to be mere fashion's lady—
"Woman" is the brightest star.
If ye, in your strong affection,
Urge your son to be a true man,
Urge your daughter no less strongly
To arise and be a woman.

Yes, a woman! brightest model
Of that high and perfect beauty,
Where the mind, and soul, and body,
Blend to work out life's great duty.
Be a woman; naught is higher
On the gilded list of fame;
On the catalogue of virtue
There's no brigter, holier name.

Be a woman! on to duty;
Raise the world from all that's low,
Place high in the social heaven
Virtue's bright and radiant bow.
Lend thy influence to each effort
That shall raise our nature human;
Be not fashion's gilded lady—
Be a brave, whole-souled, true woman.

(Correspondence of the Philadelphia Daily News.)

Scene on a Steamboat.

NORFOLK, VA., August 7.

The seeds so industriously sown by the Radical leaders are beginning to bear fruit. On Saturday last the Norfolk and Peninsula delegates were returning from the Radical convention at Richmond on the steamer Mystic, and at dinner time the colored portion of the passengers proceeded to occupy the first table. Some objection was made by a white passenger, and quite a scene ensued. Pistols and knives were flourished, but no blood was shed. The irrepressible sons of Africa, however, carried the day. A colored lady was triumphantly escorted to the table by a white Radical from Norfolk, and those white passengers who did not choose to eat with colored folks went dinnerless. Some white ladies on board retreated to the captain's saloon, where dinner was sent them. The captain of the boat vainly endeavored to maintain the supremacy of the white element. The darkies threatened to put him ashore if he made further trouble, and take charge of the boat themselves. Col. Gibson, of Gen. Schofield's staff, was aboard. It will soon come to pass that the "secesh" whites will be obliged to eat at the second table when colored folks are present. Northern Radical whites will, for a while, be allowed to associate on equal terms with colored folks; but the time will soon come when the darkey will treat the white Yankee Radical with as much contempt as he does the mean white trash of the South. Your true African is a great aristocrat at heart.

"When two ride on one horse, one must needs ride behind." So it will be in the South. It is a delusion which practical observation soon dispels to suppose the two races in the South can associate on equal terms. One or the other must ride formost. From their nearly equal numerical condition the race that receives the moral support of the North will eventually predominate.

As was expected, the "respectable" whites received the cold shoulder at Richmond Republican convention.—As it was only a mass meeting, of course Hunnicutt and his Richmond crowd controlled it. Botts and the Albemarle respectables were nowhere.

Reports from the wheat crop continue unfavorable. Every farmer I have yet heard from, who has thrashed, reports a yield from twenty-five to fifty per cent. less than his expectations.—The climate of Eastern Virginia, of late years, seems unfavorable to wheat. A yield of five to seven bushels per acre is all that can be counted on.—Peruvian guano and Baugh's superphosphate were both tried on the late crop, and alike without any perceptible benefit. Corn is looking tolerably. A yield of twelve bushels per acre may be counted on as an average crop.—Among the freedman tenant farmers, fifty bushels of corn will in nine cases out of ten be the entire product of a year's farming. In a country where such farming predominates, everything must rapidly tend to a dead level of absolute poverty.

☞Henry Ward Beecher says in his new story: "Is Nature mere phenomena? or is it God's phenomena, meant to convey something deeper than the body catches—something for the soul? Why, then, should you, a minister of God, hunt through books for God, and stand in pity of me, who use the Bible as I would a Botany—which does not contain living plants, but only word-descriptions of them? If I would see the plant itself, I must go out of the book, to Nature. And the Bible cannot contain the truth itself, only the word-forms, the lettered symbols of truth. God does not live in a book; man does not live in a book. Love, Faith, Joy, Hope, do not, cannot live in a book. For the living truth we must go outside of the Bible, which is but to religion what Botany is to gardens, meadows, and all their flowers!"

☞A Chinese maxim says: "We require four things of women: That virtue dwell in her heart; that modesty play on her brow; that sweetness flow from her lips, and that industry occupy her hand."

Regarding Washing.

Among the trials and tribulations of domestic life, few are less bearable than those which pertain to the laundry. For the utter inefficiency of Biddy as a washerwoman, and both are far exceeded by her superlative unskilfulness in ironing. Thus Materfamilias is brought to shame, and Paterfamilias exhibits wrath over clothing that is only half-washed, doubly starched, and only ironed when ironing is synonymous with scorching. Perhaps a little light on domestic duties of this description may come to house-wives, young and old, from the perusal of the following from the Montreal Witness:—

The evening previous to washing, all the clothes should be gathered up and assorted; woollens, colored clothes, unbleached cottons, and linens and fine clothes into their separate bundles. Except woollens and colored clothes, all other kinds should be put to soak over night, the very dirty parts having soap rubbed on them. If you use a washing fluid, it is usually mixed in the soaking water; if you use no wash mixture, the next morning wring out the clothes, and proceed to wash them carefully through two warm lathers; then boil them in clean lather briskly, but not longer than a half-hour. Wash them out of boil, rinse through two waters. The last rinsing water should have a delicate tinge of blue, likewise a small quantity of starch for all cottons and linen; reserve those you wish stiffer for the last, and mix more starch in the water. Some bosoms and collars, skirts—in short, anything you wish very stiff—should be dipped in starch while dry. Swiss and other thin muslins and laces are dipped in starch while dry, and then clapped with the hands in the right condition to iron. Calicoes, brilliants, and lawns of white grounds are washed like any other white material, omitting boiling, until the yellow tinge they acquire makes it absolutely necessary. Unbleached cottons and linens follow the white clothes, through the same waters; but must in no case be boiled or washed with them, as they continually discharge a portion of their color, and so discolor the white clothes. In directing the preparations for washing fluids, we give the process employed with them; but colored clothes, in our experience, can be washed in none of them without injury to the color. Calicoes, colored lawns, and colored cottons and linens generally, are washed through two suds and two rinsing waters; starch being used in the last, as all clothes look better and keep clean longer if a little stiffened. Many calicoes will spot if soap is rubbed on them; they should be washed in a lather, simply. A spoonful of ox gall to a gallon of water will set the colors of almost any goods soaked in it previous to washing. A tea cup of lye in a bucket of water will improve the color of black goods. A strong, clean tea of common hay will preserve the color of those French linens so much used in summer by both sexes. If the water in which potatoes are cooked is saved and boiled down it stiffens black calicoes as well as starch, and saves them from the dusty and smeared look they so often have. Vinegar in the rinsing water, for pink or green calicoes, will brighten them. Pearlash answers the same end for purples and blue. Colored and white flannels must be washed separately; and by no means wash after cotton or linen, as the lint from these goods adheres to the flannel. There should be a little blue in the rinsing water for white flannels. Allow your flannels to freeze after washing in winter; it bleaches them.

Happy Home.

A young man meets a pretty face in the ball-room, falls in love with it, courts it, marries it, goes to housekeeping with it, and boasts of having a home to go to and a wife. The chances are nine to ten he has neither. Her pretty face gets to be an old story, or becomes faded, or freckled, or fretted, and as that face was all he wanted, all he "paid attention to," all he sat up with, all he bargained for, all he sworo to "love, honor, and protect," he gets sick of his trade; knows a dozen faces which he likes better; gives up staying at home of evenings, consoles himself with cigars, oysters, whisky-punch, and politics, and looks upon his "home" as a very indifferent boarding-house. A family of children grow up about him; but neither he nor his "face" knows anything about training them, so they come up helter-skelter—made toys of when babies, dolls when boys and girls, drudges when young men and women; and so passes year after year, and not one quiet, happy, homely hour is known throughout the whole household. Another young man becomes enamored of a "fortune." He waits upon it to parties, dances the polka with it, exchanges billets-doux with it, pops the question to it, gets "yes" from it, is published to it, takes to the parson's, weds it, calls it "wife," carries it home, sets up an establishment with it, introduces it to his friends, and says (poor fellow!) that he, too, is married, and has got a home. It's false. He is not married; he has no home. And he soon finds it out. He's in the wrong box; but it is too late to get out of it. He might as well hope to escape from his coffin. Friends congratulate him, and he has to grin and bear it. They praise the house, the furniture, the cradle, the new Bible, the newer baby; and then bid the "fortune" and him who "husbands" it good morning. As if he had known a good morning since he and that gilded "fortune" were falsely declared to be one.

The Globe.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Wednesday morning, Aug. 21, 1867.

WM. LEWIS, HUGH LINDSAY, } EDITORS.

☞ General Grant "accepted" the situation as he found it, when President Johnson offered him the position of Secretary of War. Stanton acknowledged to giving way to "superior force," and so the matter stands until a new Secretary is appointed by the President, or until Congress convenes, in November.

☞ Robert feels sore over his defeat for County Treasurer. He was so earnestly the friend of a soldier that he declined being a candidate against Logan on the morning of the nomination after he had been informed by delegates that "he couldn't come in."—Two years labor and anxiety nipped in the bud by a soldier repudiated last fall by the Soldiers' League. Poor Robert! "The first shall be last and the last shall be first."

"WE hazard the prediction that if ever the right of suffrage is conferred upon the negro in this State it will be in consequence of Democratic opposition to the measure.—Jour. & Am.

An honest confession,—that whatever Democrats propose Republicans will oppose, and what Democrats oppose Republicans will advocate. Such a spirit is just what is wrong in parties, and is the power party leaders use to force upon the people measures the majority of the people are honestly opposed to. The position of the Journal & American is now plainly understood—it is in favor of negroes voting and holding office in this and every other State, simply because Democrats oppose their voting and holding office.

ORDER DISAPPROVED.—The second supplemental reconstruction act requires the virtual approval of General Grant of all of the orders which any district commander may issue. The first instance of the disapproval of any order yet issued occurred last week, when General Grant telegraphed General Sickles setting aside his order prohibiting the execution of a process relative to debt, which was issued in North Carolina by the United States District Court, Chief Justice Chase presiding.

If President Johnson had disapproved an order of Sickles, party spirit would have sent up a dreadful howl, for to such extremes party feeling has run.

IN TROUBLE.—The leading organs of both political parties and of all the principal political factions in the United States, are now trying to find out where General Grant stands. One organ assures us he stands with the President—another organ in the interest of the radicals in Congress assures us he favors radical measures—a Conservative organ assures us he stands between the two extreme parties, neither approving of all that Congress has done or of all the President proposes. We are inclined to believe that Gen. Grant will speak at the proper time, and until then his stand point will not be known to politicians. Gen. Grant is not yet ready to be caught in the political traps set for him by the several Presidential aspirants and their friends. He is in no hurry to disappoint some of his admirers. General Grant may be the man who will save this country from being destroyed by the corrupt politicians. He may step in as peace-maker. We are for such a man.

NOW AND THEN.—The editors of the Journal & American don't like the kind of reading matter we give our readers. We have not yet made up our mind to consult them as to what we shall publish. If we cannot endorse Stevens & Co. radicalism and fanaticism we are willing to take the responsibility as John A. Nash, the publisher, proprietor and editor of that paper did a few years ago when he uttered in his paper the following sentiments:

"This infamous Black Republican party, which, for meanness, outstrips any other political party that was ever organized in this or any other enlightened country. The baseness of its tactics has rendered it odious to every TRUE American, and as a party, is fit only for the association of niggers."

This was Mr. Nash's opinion but a few years ago, as we can show by his own paper. We have never said as hard words of the Republican party, but we have said and still say as hard words of individual members of the party, and think and say the same of individual members of the Democratic party.

☞ Another cable is being laid from Key West, Florida, to Cuba. The shore end of the cable was landed at Key West on the 3d, and on the 4th twenty miles were paid out, when it was cut and buoyed in one hundred and thirty fathoms of water. The next day the shore end was laid at the town of Chorrera, on the Cuban coast. The vessel got off the true course to the buoy, and it was with difficulty that the ends could be found.

☞ A terrible earthquake occurred in Java, on the 18th of June. The greater part of the indigo and sugar manufactories, private houses and military establishments were all destroyed at Djokjdo, but in other districts the damage was not so extensive. The loss, however, is incalculable. The sugar crop is totally lost. A large number of Europeans and natives perished. Reports says three hundred.

The Conventions.

We attended both political Conventions held in this place last week, as a looker-on, and for no other purpose than to report their proceedings as correctly as possible. The proceedings of each, and we believe them correct, will be found in another part of this paper. The Republican Convention was the strongest body of the kind we have seen in the county for many years. Faction could not control the Convention, as able debaters enforced common sense ideas. Of the ticket put in nomination we will at present say nothing, more than that the nominations for the local county offices are men we believe well selected for the positions, with the exception of the candidate for Jury Commissioner.—The Jury Commissioner should be a man personally acquainted with every man in the county, or as near so as it would be possible to find such a man. In the selection for this office the Democratic Convention made a similar mistake—a similar failure.

The Democratic Convention was a "usual" affair—only more careless than in former years in selecting candidates for the local offices, with perhaps but one exception, and that exception is David A. Thompson for a Treasurer. Mr. Thompson was a good soldier for four years and is competent to fill the office.

What we may say hereafter, as the political campaign opens, will be said from an independent stand-point. We neither belong to the Republican organization, nor to the Democratic organization. We have more desire to see the people and our whole country blessed with peace and prosperity, than we have to see the success of mere party organizations or party men.

JURY COMMISSIONERS.—Under the new law which came into existence last winter, two jury commissioners will be elected in this county at the next election,—one from each party,—as inspectors of elections are elected. The men elected, (to carry out honestly the full intent of the law,) should be well acquainted with the people of all sections of the county. The gentlemen put in nomination last week will certainly not claim to be such men—indeed we doubt whether they are more than well acquainted with the people of the townships in which they live. The mistake in their nominations was not their fault—it was the fault of the delegates in the convention, and the candidates will show good sense by at once declining a position they are not competent to fill, and ask for the selection of men fully competent to give the law a fair trial. There are many men in the county who would make good jury commissioners, and we hope proper men may yet be selected. Any of the following gentlemen would make good jury commissioners: Ex-Sheriff G. W. Johnston, Ex-Sheriff W. B. Ziegler, Ex-Sheriff Joshua Greenland, Ex-Sheriff Graffus Miller, John Flenner, George Jackson, A. P. Wilson, Jacob Cresswell, John F. Miller, and others we do not just now think off.

Costly Legislation.

(We take the following article from the editorial columns of Forney's Press of last Friday. It gives facts and figures, and should satisfy every reader that a great reform is necessary.)

COSTLY LEGISLATION.—We have put ourselves to some trouble to ascertain accurately what our late Harrisburgh Legislature has cost. It is a matter that deeply concerns the State, in which every citizen is deeply interested, and which badly needs reform. Of course, the little-minded Democracy when they see this article will print distorted paragraphs of it, and begin to cry out and howl about Radical extravagance and recklessness, and other sins. But it does not matter. We have learned to stand and live through all such petty assaults. We have never shrunk from acknowledging Judge Sharswood's private character and ability, although certain that such an admission would be unfairly and ungenerously quoted next morning in the Democratic sheets as an endorsement and argument for the election of that gentleman. We do not shrink now from bringing to the light the misdeeds and misappropriations of our late Legislature. Our party is the party of reform, and the first step towards reformation is a full and thorough knowledge of the abuse.

The great reform that we need next session; and that we can effect at the election of this fall, is retrenchment and an honest economy in the administration of the affairs of the Commonwealth. This can be best and only achieved by sending to the coming Legislature—to the House as well as the Senate—good men. The abuses of the last year cry for remedy. The practical remedy is honest and reputable legislators. That remedy is in the hands of the people.

We trust that this fall none but the best men will be sent to Harrisburgh, and we are convinced that it is the will and intention of the people to send only such. Chester county leads off in the nomination (for it is apparently conceded) of the Hon. John Hickman. Let all the other counties follow. The greatest care is needed and demanded in the selection of Representatives. Let no untried or unknown men be risked. Let no men be sent who have been failures in private life. Let every voter resolve that there shall go from his county only such a man as he would be willing to select as a trustee for his property or a guardian for his children. The members of our Legislature are the trustees of the Commonwealth. Men who have failed in their own business, men who have no business, scrambling adventurers, political hacks, inexperienced youths, are not the proper or creditable representatives of any district in this State, yet they are the class of men who usually go to Harrisburg. Let this thing be changed. Send your young farmers, your substantial millers, your trusted lawyers. Send the men who are executors and trustees in your community, and you will not likely have to pay again $265,861.16 as the cost of one year's legislation. How this sum was expended we propose to show item by item. The accounts of the last session of the Legislature have been audited. A careful examination of the books in the Auditor General's office shows the following to have been the expenses incurred in legislation alone:

Senators' pay, mileage, and stationery,	$35,477 00
Representatives' pay, mileage, and stationery	107,508 45

The legal allowance to each person was $1,000 for salary, $25 for stationery, and 15 cents per mile circular for traveling. The thirty three Senators and one hundred members therefore received an average of $1,075 each one hundred and one days (from January 1 to April 11), or about $10.64 per diem.

Rev. E. L. Bailey received $300 from the Senate, and Rev. J. Kennedy $300 from the House, for opening the daily sessions with prayer, being at the rate of $3 per diem.

The thirty-three Senators had 29 regular officers, seven pages, twenty five women, and four reporters who drew pay. The officers drew $28,893 80, or an average of $996 each; the pages drew $1,270.50, or $181 each; the women $921, or over $26 each; and the reporters $800, or $200 each.

The contingent bill of the clerk of the Senate was but $633.44, as against the contingent bill of the clerk of the House, which was $4,000.

The one hundred members of the House had sixty-five regular officers, thirteen pages, — women and four reporters who drew pay. The officers drew $57,530.78, or an average of $885 each; the pages $2,359.50, or $181 each; the women $1,240, and four reporters $200 each.

The members and officers availed themselves of the privileges of franking documents (postage paid by the State) to the extent of $9,256, with other bills not ascertained.

The entire work of the session was the passage of 1,516 private laws, 73 public laws, and 14 resolutions.

The House appointed a number of investigating committees, the expenses of which were as follows:

Wm. S. Gregory, chairman of committee to report upon exempt property in Philadelphia.	$1,893 00
Advertising meeting of committee.	367 64
Geo. W. Moony, clerk to committee.	819 85
	$3,080 49
Edward G. Lee, chairman, and E. W. Davis, Wm. M. Worrall, Jas. Subers, and Wm. J. Donohugh, committee to inquire into the lottery business in Philadelphia.	$660 00
Joseph R. Matthews, clerk to committee.	$289 98
	$949 98
Samuel Josephs, chairman of committee to ascertain whether the Atlantic and Great Western Railway had made discrimination in freight charges.	$445 00
Jos. T. Chase, member of committee.	445 00
Geo. W. McKee, member of committee.	445 00
Alex. Adaire, member of committee.	445 00
A. Muckley, member of committee.	445 00
G. H. Bomus, clerk to committee.	825 00
Wm. J. Ovens, sergeant-at-arms.	327 10
	$3,377 10
W. B. Waddell, chairman of committee to investigate certain charges in reference to an Alleghany county liquor law.	$375 00
Three witnesses.	104 30
	$479 30
R. Colville, chairman of committee to ascertain whether the Pennsylvania Railroad made discrimination in freight charges.	$225 00
N. B. Pennypacker, member of committee.	225 00
O. Woodward, member of committee.	225 00
A. D. Markley, member of committee.	225 00
Geo. Quigley, member of committee.	225 00
Luke V. Sutphin, clerk to committee.	363 40
Wm. J. Ovens, sergeant-at-arms.	272 50
	$1,760 90
Wm. Hood, chairman of committee to inquire into the running of locomotives over the paved streets in Philadelphia.	$381 60
Geo. DeHaven, member of committee	381 60
Wm. J. Donohugh, member of committee.	381 60
George W. Ghegan, member of committee.	381 60
Geo. Quigley, member of committee	381 60
John W. Roileau, clerk of committee	741 60
Wm. J. Ovens, sergeant-at-arms.	100 00
	$2,749 60
George Diese, chairman of committee to investigate fast freight transportation system, and M. S. Quay, Geo. DeHaven, L. Westbrook, and Wm. Waddell, members.	$1,408 25
J. L. Anderson, clerk to committee.	350 10
Two witness.	21 90
Expenses:	250 00
J. L. Anderson, clerk,	498 20
Three witnesses.	76 23
	$2,604 68
John C. Sturdivant, clerk of committee to ascertain whether any corruption attended the election of United States Senator.	$100 00
Two witnesses.	68 64
	$168 64

Making a grand total of $265,861.16. Whether the same amount shall be spent next year rests with the people, and they must decide it at their nominating conventions during this and the next month.

☞ A bill is being prepared by prominent loyal men of the South, to enforce the present confiscation laws, and so modify them as to resurvey all of the seceded States in the same manner as the public lands are surveyed, and to grant pre emption rights to the freedmen and Union soldiers, three hundred millions of dollars of the proceeds arising from the sales to be used in reimbursing loyal men for property destroyed and confiscated by the rebel government, and the balance to be used in paying pensions to disabled Union soldiers. The bill provides that after the survey is made the land shall be offered for sale to the freedmen and discharged Union soldiers, at the rate of one dollar and twenty-five cents an acre, payable in twenty years, at an interest of six per centum per annum; other parties to be allowed to purchase at twenty-five per cent. cash and equal annual instalments for three years at six per cent. interest. The last section provides that disloyal persons shall be allowed to retain property to the amount of five thousand dollars, provided the limit of such property does not exceed one of the legal subdivisions — one hundred and sixty acres. This bill, it is said, will be offered in Congress in November.

A Call for Enterprising Men.

Hopewell, Bedford county, Pa., June 26, 1867.—Editors Journal of Mining:—Gentlemen:—I have frequently been requested, by a number of my friends, to call public attention to this interesting portion of our State, through the medium of your valuable journal, which has, doubtless, been the instrument through which more true and valuable information has been imparted to the American public, than perhaps any other source. Owing however, to the rapid and startling events which have followed each other during the last five or six years, I have up to this time, deferred doing so, believing that the public mind was not in a situation to calmly look into and examine the peculiar advantages of any particular locality of our great mineral State, until the important issues in which we were involved were properly adjusted. That time having arrived when the supremacy of our government has been fully established, and the indefatigable energy, that is characteristic of this great nation in peace or war, is now ready to be directed, and is anxiously inquiring for information as to where capital and industry can be the most advantageously employed in developing the hidden resources of our vast country. It is to this class of our citizens that I wish particularly to call attention to this hitherto neglected portion of our State, as having all the natural advantages and resources that can be desired to open up a great field of enterprise, and which must eventually become one of the most extensive iron manufacturing districts in the State. It has been said "that a prophet has no honor in his own country," the same may be applied with equal truth to sections of this country, which really possess more wealth than the same breadth of territory, embracing the richest gold mines of California. But, for some unexplained cause, the peculiar advantages that nature has deposited at our own doors are overlooked, and the glittering gold fields of distant sections of our country are selected by our enterprising young men, as the field of their future operations, and in their haste to make money, they blunder over the seemingly more humble deposits of nature, to which, if they could be attracted, and infuse the same amount of energy in developing, would most assuredly, in a majority of instances, find themselves more comfortable in a pecuniary point of view, and have the satisfaction of knowing that they contributed more to the interests of their fellow men and their country by helping to build up our manufacturing interests at home, than they possibly could have done had they followed the "ignus fatuus" contemplated by so many. This particular section of country, possessing all the advantages to which I allude, lies principally along the valley from Huntingdon, in Huntingdon county, beyond Bedford, in Bedford county, to the Maryland line, and even beyond that. Immense beds of brown hematite and also fossiliferous ores run thro' the entire valley, a distance of, perhaps, more than eighty miles. It has been estimated by scientific geologists that there is most certainly a sufficient amount of ore lying between these points mentioned to keep one hundred furnaces in operation that many years; and, strange as it may appear, up to this time there is but one furnace in the whole valley, and that is situated at this place. In order to give some idea of the quality of the metal that is manufactured from the ore of this region, it is only necessary to state that the principal part of the metal made here the last year, has been used in the manufacture of steel, for which purpose it is said to be peculiarly adapted. As another evidence of the estimation in which this ore is held by those who have tested it, I would say that a company from Danville, Montour county, Pennsylvania, are now mining and shipping it from this region a distance of 200 miles, and we believe the transportation is altogether by railroad. If they can ship ore advantageously, which they certainly do, that distance, you can readily perceive the advantage there would be in the manufacture of the raw material on the ground where we have the very best of coal, limestone, water power, and the all important ore; indeed, all the facilities and repuisites to insure a superior as well as cheap iron. Last but not least by any means, we have the Huntingdon and Broad Top R. R. traversing as it were, the heart of this valley containing all these mineral resources a distance of 43 miles. I might, indeed, fill columns of your paper with this important subject, but I have now transcended the limits I intended. Hoping this may find favor with the class of enterprising men, for whom it is more particularly intended, and they may avail themselves of those golden opportunities to enrich themselves, and their country with them, in developing by their energy this rich field of deposits; and in the future, watching these important developments which must and certainly will take place, I may, perhaps, be enabled to give you a more detailed account of this region of country in regard to this important subject. I would respectfully refer persons desirous of having any information in relation to this region to John Fulton, Esq., President and Mining Engineer at Saxton, Bedford co., Pa.

JOHN F. LOWRY.

Letter from the 37th U. S. I.

DEERINGS WELLS, COLORADO TERRITORY, Aug. 5th, 1867.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—After the lapse of several months we are again found applicants for admission into your valuable columns, though in a different capacity and from a different locality than at our last appearance in the GLOBE. Then we were residing within a few miles of "ye ancient borough," serving in the capacity of a "tiller of the soil." To-day we are cropping the plains of Colorada, protecting the frontier and overland mail from the depredations of the Indians.

Without further prevarication we will give you as accurate and truthful account of the condition and ability of the Indians to wage war against the whites, and their abilities to continue it, as our observations and our intercourse with men who have spent half of their lives among them with permit. In the distant east the tales you read of the Indian massacres on the plains, you merely pass by without giving it a second thought, treating it perhaps as some idle report, or even if true not of sufficient importance to engage your attention. But there are hundreds, yes thousands of your countrymen exposed to the mercy of the Indians, standing in dread of the excited passions of the savages waiting nightly to hear the dread war-whoop as the signal of an attack on the defenceless dwelling. These naturally are the men who have the most to fear, and these are the men who most desire to have an effective and vigorous war waged against the savages, or a treaty of peace made which will secure them safety for their lives and property. Whether or not the Government is acting in a manner which will bring about those results it is not proper for us to judge. But one thing our reason teaches us is that, with all due respect to those in power, the present policy pursued by the Government will never exterminate the Indians from the plains or bring about a treaty of peace, by force of arms never. Though our forces outnumber the Indians ten to one, they possess an advantage over us that amply replaces that lost by their inferiority of numbers. They will subsist where our troops will starve. They are mounted on swift active ponies, while our Cavalry horses are slow and sluggish. Their horses will fatten on the grass on which ours would starve. Our troops move with all the paraphernalia of war. They have wagon trains miles in length, with supplies, forage, and other indispensable stores for an army of men. The Indians can provide themselves each with a piece of jirked venison, leap on their ponies and go on a plundering expedition for a week. You may hear of them attacking a certain point to-night, to-morrow morning they may be away forty-miles striking a blow some place where they are least expected. Is there any use in our troops following them? No. By the time they reach the place where last seen, the Indians would be far away in their own camp in some distant bluff, miles away where no white man dare enter. Why not adopt the system proposed by those men who have spent their lives among the Indians, men who are acquainted with their habits and dispositions, their inclinations and their passions. It is useless to attempt to civilize them; as a general rule the males are indolent, and improvident; they bear no resemblance to a civilized people, but in form and appearance, and even in this respect, sacrificing the similitude by their long and hereditary habits of savagery. In instincts and morals they are debased below the brute creation. Let the Government then call together the heads of the different tribes and agree to establish as near the centre of the different tribes as possible, and issue rations to the tribes as they need them. Starvation is one of the main causes that put them on the war path, and that cause removed and they will embrace the first opportunity to come to peace, provided their rights are protected by the Government. If we can conceive of any cause for them to rise in war again, it would be out of pure jealousy and among themselves, of the good food, and the happiness they were enjoying. Dispense with the villainous set of agents that rob them of their annuities. Let the Government see that they are regularly and fully received by them, and mark our *words, though this would incur consid*erable expense, it would in the end prove the most economical policy, for the frontier wars would then cease. But as long as they are subjected to the frauds and the intrusions of the white man they will wage a merciless war against the pale faces, till the last miserable remnant of their race, the rightful possesors of this soil, will be driven to the brink of the "great waters" in the far, far west, where he will utter an expiring curse against the intruders of his native land and the destroyers of his race. More anon.

STEEL boilers, it is said, are coming into use on French locomotives. 12 express engines, with steel boilers, are employed on one railway leading out of Paris, fifteen on another, and several on other roads.

SPEAR'S PATENT

Fruit Preserving Solution,

FOR THE PRSERVATION OF ALL KINDS OF

FRUITS, VEGETABLES, JELLIES, WINES, CIDER, &c.

Without Sugar, and without Expensive Sealing or Air-tight Jars.

One Bottle will Preserve 128 Pounds of Fruit, or 48 Gallons of Wine or Cider.

CHEAP, HEALTHFUL AND EFFECTUAL.

This Solution, when properly used, effectually prevents fermentation or decay of Fruits, and, by the most simple and inexpensive process, every variety may be kept in a fresh and perfectly wholesome condition the year round. It is no new and uncertain experiment, but has been in practical use for the past eight years, yet has been, for the most part, kept from the public for the purpose of ascertaining the result of a series of experiments, all of which have proved the validity of all that is now confidently claimed for it.

Fruits preserved by this Solution are as good as the best "canned" fruits, while the use of the solution avoids the trouble of sealing, costly jars or cans, keeping from the air and light, frequent examinations, and the many other troubles and annoyances well known to every housewife.

Fresh native fruits the year round have become almost a household necessity, both on account of their healthfulness and as a luxury; and by the use of this solution this great luxury is within the reach of every family, rich or poor, in the land, as all kinds of fruit may be preserved during pleasure at less than one-half the expense of any other method.

The solution is perfectly free from objection on the score of health. Professor Bache, under date "U. S. Naval Laboratory, New York, September 14, 1864," says: "By direction of the Chief of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, I have examined your Preserving Solution, and meats and fruits preserved by it. I have a high opinion of its value, and believe it can be used in the preservation of those articles in a fresh state for the army and navy very advantageously. The Solution is perfectly free from objection on the score of healthfulness."

Other certificates from distinguished chemists, confirming the above, can be seen and had where the solution is sold. It is claimed:

1. That Spear's Solution preserves the flavor of all kinds of native fruits more perfectly and durably than can be done in any other way, and at much less trouble and expense;

2. That the use of the Solution renders it unnecessary to use air-tight or expensive jars or cans, and also avoids the inconvenience of hermetically sealing and keeping from the air, heat, light, etc.;

3. That the use of the Solution admits of the keeping of the fruit in vessels of any size, even in kegs or barrels if desirable;

4. That the use of the Solution allows the shipment of the fruit by salt or fresh water, in the hottest weather, without danger of loss or injury;

5. That it is invaluable in the preserving of Tomato, Peach, Pear, Apple, Quince and other Sauces, Wines and Cider; also for all kinds of Spiced Fruits; that those alone recommend it to every family, and to use it once will guarantee their approval.

—A correspondent of the Johnstown Tribune writing from Richland township, Cambria county, tells of a young man having swallowed twenty-two hundred and twenty-eight cherry stones. —Isn't it strange that while we have the gentlemen of experience in our midst to superintend a work of improvement, such as the Williamsport dam, that no chance for the development of their abilities is afforded them nearer home? We are afraid that Huntingdon is blind to the chances for its own aggrandizement. Improvement in a more public channel is just what our town needs, and in fact has always needed. Will not our enterprising capitalists (if any there are) find something to remunerate themselves and benefit the town?

The Juniata Steam Pearl Mill located in West Huntingdon, is now in the best running order. We have tried the flour made from new wheat and new stones, and we think we are perfectly safe in saying that the best quality of flour may be expected from the Pearl Mill. Mr. McCahan & Son deserve great credit for putting the mill in perfect order.

Republican Convention.

The Republican Convention met at the Public School House in this borough at 10 o'clock Tuesday of last week. The Convention was called to order by H. G. Fisher, Chairman of the County Committee.

John H. Stonebraker, of Brady, was chosen Chairman of the Convention and Edw. A. Green and D. L. Rhey appointed Secretaries. Credentials of delegates were then received, and contested seats referred to a committee. H. G. Fisher and five other gentlemen were appointed to draft resolutions. After the organization was complete the Convention adjourned to meet again after dinner.

At 2 o'clock the Convention again assembled. Committee on contested seats reported, and after statements by parties immediately interested, but two delegates were admitted from this borough, and the Judge Leas delegates from Shirley borough.

Candidates for the several offices were then put in nomination and balloted for.

On motion of Judge Leas, M. S. Lytle, Esq., was made Chairman of County Committee to be selected by the delegates present.

Committee on Resolutions reported the following which were unanimously adopted:

We the Republicans of Huntingdon County, by our delegates assembled in Convention for the purpose of presenting to the people proper persons for their suffrages at the coming election, hereby declare:

First, That it is the foundation of our political faith that the Union of the States is indissoluble, that the general government is paramount in power and authority, and that the position of the States is subordinate and inferior.

Second, That devotion to the general government as a unity and to the principles established and the truths confirmed by the war against the Rebellion is the first duty of the citizen.

Third, That the Judiciary should be raised above partisan doctrines and influences, to the end that there may never again be enunciated the opinion that the nation has no power to maintain itself against treason, that no more attempts may be made to nullify the laws enacted by Congress, and no more decisions that the draft and the National currency are unconstitutional.

Fourth, That we recognize our candidate for the Supreme Judgeship, the Hon. Henry W. Williams, as standing on the same high ground occupied by Abraham Lincoln in 1860 and 1864, and by John W. Geary in 1866, and that we will give to him the same support we gave to them.

Fifth, That Judge Sharswood's interpretation of the Constitution as judicially expressed in the case of Borie vs. Trott, upon the powers of the government in relation to the currency, is equally destructive of its ability to sustain itself in time of war—domestic or foreign—and if his views had been adopted by the Judiciary generally, at the time his dissenting opinion was announced, in vain would the government have struggled with the expenses of the war, for, it is idle to suppose they could have been carried upon a specie basis.

Sixth, That the safety of the country demands that Edwin M. Stanton, Secretary of War, should remain in the position assured to him by Congress, and that we earnestly request of him that under no circumstances will he allow himself to be displaced.

Seventh, That to General Sheridan, and the other District Commanders who like him have determined to carry out the Reconstruction laws in their spirit, we extend our most hearty thanks, and that General Grant, by his opposition to the removal of Stanton and Sheridan, has elevated himself still higher in the hearts of his countrymen.

Eighth, That Andrew Johnson ought to resign and that we call upon Congress, immediately after reassembling, to put this desire of the people in proper form and lay it before the person to whom it refers.

Ninth, That the situation and interests of our Commonwealth demand the enactment of a free railroad law and that our representatives in the next Legislature are desired to favor such a measure.

Tenth, That every praise is due to our representatives in Congress and the late State Legislature for their compliance with the wishes of their constituents, their fidelity to the welfare of their respective districts of the Commonwealth and the whole country.

Eleventh, That we will all labor diligently, honestly and fairly for the election of the candidates placed in nomination this day; deeming them all worthy of support, and endeavor to give them more than the usual majority.

The nominations were all made unanimous, and the Convention adjourned with three cheers for the ticket.

What Everybody Says must be True.

A field of corn on Mr. McMurtrie's farm opposite town, is said by many farmers who examined it last week, to be the best in the county. It was put in with a drill and stands a stock to every foot in the row. It will yield heavy to the acre.

Democratic Convention.

The Democratic Convention met at the Public School House at 2 o'clock on Wednesday last, and was called to order by J. M. Bailey, Esq., Chairman of the County Committee, when on motion Samuel Brooks, Esq., was called to the chair, and J. C. Seebler and John Murphy were appointed Secretaries. Credentials of delegates were received, when on motion the Convention proceeded to nominate and ballot for candidates for the several offices as follows:

For Senator,

*R. Bruce Petrikin had	62 votes.
Jacob Cresswell	" 10 "

The name of D. Caldwell was withdrawn.

For Assembly,

*John S. Miller had	50 votes.
Wm. A. Fraker	" 22 "

For County Commissioner,

*—— Chilcote had	48 votes.
Joseph Diggins	" 11 "
Jas. Carothers	" 13 "

For Treasurer,

*David Thompson had	47 votes.
Thomas Isenberg	" 19 "
Wm. Stewart	" 5 "

For Jury Commissioner,

George Jackson had 20 votes.

James Murphy	" 7 "
George Porter	" 9 "
*N. K. Covert	" 30 "

On motion Covert was declared the candidate.

For Director of the Poor,

*Peter Cogen had	35 votes.
J. Longnecker,	" 32 "

For Auditor,

W. C. Swan was nominated for 3 years and M. M. McNeal for 1 year. Mr. McNeal declined the nomination, and the vacancy will be filled by County Committee.

Gen. A. P. Wilson was appointed Chairman of a committee to prepare resolutions, and an address to the voters of the county.

On motion R. Milton Speer, Esq., was appointed Chairman of a County Committee.

On motion the Convention adjourned.

Meeting of the Agricultural Society.

A meeting of the Agricultural Society of Huntingdon County, was held in the Court House, at Huntingdon, on Tuesday evening, the 13th inst.

Graffus Miller, President, in the Chair. Robert McDivitt and John M. Bailey, Recording Secretaries of the Society, both being absent, Wm. B. Zeigler was appointed as Secretary pro. tem.

On motion, Wm. P. Orbison, Esq., delivered an able and interesting address on the subject of Agriculture.

It was then Resolved, That a Fair be held by the Society, for 3 days, commencing Wednesday, the 2d day of October next.

A committee of five was then appointed to procure ground on which to hold the Fair, viz: John S. Miller, Wm. Lewis, Wm. Williams, George Jackson and William B. Zeigler.

The following named were then elected Delegates to visit the State Agricultural College on the 4th of September next, viz: Livingston Robb, Wm. B. Leas, Esq., and James Myton; and as alternates, Messrs. John S. Isett, Henry W. Miller and James Hutchison.

On motion, the aforementioned Delegates were instructed to invite Gen. John Frazer to deliver an address before the Society, on the subject of Agriculture, at the Court House, on Thursday evening, the 3d day of October, at 7½ o'clock.

A Premium list on stock, prepared and presented by John S. Miller, was then read, and after discussion, adopted. The balance of the premium list of last year was then, on motion, referred for revision to a committee of ten, viz: R. M. Speer, J. S. Miller, W. B. Leas, D. Blair, D. Hawn, D. W. Womelsdorf, G. W. Johnston, G. W. Owens, James Myton and T. H. Cremer, whose action shall be final.

The following named committee of arrangements were then appointed by the President, viz: Alex. Port, George Jackson, William Zeigler, James Port, Henry McManigill, James Hutchison and Dr. Allison Miller.

On motion, the Committee of Arrangements was instructed to procure music for two days of the Fair at a cost of not exceeding $50 per day. Adjourned.

GRAFFUS MILLER, President.
WM. B. ZEIGLER, Secretary.

This Representative District.

This District is composed of the counties of Huntingdon, Mifflin and Juniata. The Democratic party of Juniata offer as a candidate R. P. McWilliams of Mifflintown; Mifflin concedes the candidate to Juniata; and the Democratic party of Huntingdon county offers John S. Miller as a candidate. The conferees at a meeting to be held will most likely confirm the selections made.

The Republican party of Juniata offer as a candidate Capt. H. H. Wilson—the Republicans of Mifflin county concede the candidate to Juniata—the Republican party of Huntingdon county offer Henry S. Wharton as a candidate. The Republican conferees when they meet will most likely confirm the nominations made.

It is not certain who of the several candidates for the Senate in either party will be nominated. The counties in the district have not all held their conventions.

Church Dedication at Dudley.

We were present at the dedication of the Union church at Dudley, this county, on Sunday last. Rev. V. Lucas, of Allegheny city, preached the dedicatory sermon, in the morning, to a crowded audience. Rev. Mr. M'Lain of Lewistown, preached in the afternoon, and Rev. Mr. Graves, in the evening. The church is a neat two-story frame building, the lower story being used for the School. It is owned by three denominations, viz: Methodist Protestants, Presbyterians, and Methdist Episcopalians, and will be used by each as opportunity affords, as they have no regular pastors, we believe—A collection was taken up to meet a debt of $500, which we understood was covered by subscription.

Another Mystery in the Narrows.

On Wednesday evening last, at a late hour, a man and boy, the latter footsore and weary, passed down the railroad through the Narrows, and on Thursday morning the boy or young man was found, about two miles this side of Patterson, lying dead on the track, one arm and the top of his head completely cut off. There are some circumstances connected with this affair which give it a suspicious character, and taking into recollection the late attempted murder a few miles west of that place where the boy was found, almost force the conviction that he was foully dealt with and then placed upon the track, where one of the trains would be sure to mutilate the victim. In the first place, the man who was with the boy on Wednesday evening going eastward, was in Lewistown the next day, and the railroad hands aver they did not see him return that day. The boy alleged to a watchman that he had been at work up the river during harvest, at $1.50 per day, and thus probably had some money, while the man's story was entirely different. Both were strangers. The boy had on a blue soldier coat, carpet slippers, and was apparently from 16 to 18 years old. From the number of deaths taking place on the railroad, and the facilities for robbery and murder in such wild spots like the Narrows, we learn that it is probable the railroad company will order all foot passengers off the road between this place and Patterson. This would be no more than right, as no reason whatever exists for any person traveling on the railroad through that region, when the towpath and old pike on the north side of the river both furnish much better walking.—Lewistown Gazette.

The New Dam.

The immense business enterprise of our city is constantly finding new channels of development. One scheme is scarcely matured and undertaken ere another is made public, and the rapid growth of our city, as a consequence, is truly surprising.

The West Branch Boom Company are now having erected, in the river at the foot of Hepburn street, one of the finest dams ever placed in the Susquehanna river. The extreme length from bank to bank will be one thousand feet, breadth of the base 48 feet, and the height eight feet. The schute will be on the side of the river next this city, and will be 450 feet long by 60 wide, and will be guarded on each side by walls of the same length, and 16 feet wide by 16 high. Over 200,000 perch of stone will be required to complete the work and the total expenditure will not fall much short of $150,000.

The dam is being constructed under the general superintendence of A. A. Cohill; H. C. Weaver and Peter S. Johnson have charge of the wood work Wm. Gayton of the stone work, and John Gayton is the time keeper and clerk. All of them gentlemen of experience in their respective departments, and from Huntingdon county, Pa. There are at present about 180 men employed, and it is thought the work can be completed about the first of November.—Lycoming (Williamsport) Gazette.

A Delightful Ride.

Our own experience leads us to corroborate the testimony of others in saying that no more safe or pleasant road to travel on exists than the Huntingdon & Broad Top. The distance, though comparatively short, is pleasant on that account, the scenery grand and imposing to those who appreciate the picturesque, and the elevation at some points is only the more relished when you are confident that you are upon a sure foundation. For our part we were so much pleased with a recent trip that we shall take another as soon as an opportunity admits, and would advise all who wish to breathe the pure mountain air of the Broad Top section to go and do likewise.

Suspended Publication.

The Hollidaysburg Leader, a paper devoted to the support of the temperance cause, has ceased publication, on account of a lack of substantial support. We are sorry that Bro. Keatley has quit the publication of such a model paper, but now-a-days, if publishers do not receive the necessary support from their friends' pockets, they can not succeed, no matter how assiduously they labor. We wish our friends would see it in this light; but we would not complain if subscribers pay for their paper in advance. No newspaper publisher can live on promises to pay merely.

Bit by a Dog.

On Saturday morning last, while the fast line was standing at the depot, a dog attempted to cross on the platform of one of the cars, when Conductor Bell caught hold of him by the leg to throw him off. If he did he let go again very soon, as the varmint turned on him, and inflicted a bite clear thro' his hand. He vows retaliation against the aforesaid "dorg" for its triple audacity.

WANTED.

500 Agents to canvass for a work entitled "Nojoque," written by Hinton R. Helper, author of the "Impending Crisis of the South." The object of the author in this work is to show the great distinction between the white and black races. He denounces negro political and social equality, and says he can no longer act with a party that would willingly destroy the great line of distinction between the white and black races which God himself has established. Every person should secure a copy of this work.

ALSO, 500 Agents wanted to circulate the "Youth's History of the War," the only history from a Democratic standpoint. Those desiring agencies should address E. W. MILLER, Huntingdon P. O., Pa.

BEALE'S
Late Powell's Embrocation,
For all Diseases Incident to HORSES, CATTLE, and the HUMAN FLESH,
Requiring the use of an External Application.

This new Compound, prepared by a practical Chemist having a full knowledge of all the medical virtues of each ingredient that enters into its composition, is warranted to exceed anything of the kind ever yet offered to the Public as an external application for the diseases for which it is recommended. We are satisfied that it will work its own road into the confidence of all who use it, and those who try it once will never be without it, and therefore we rely on experience as the best test of its usefulness. It is pronounced by Farriers, and all who have tried it to be the best application ever used. This Embrocation has been put up for over eight years, and it is only through the increasing demand and urgent request of my friends and the Public that I send it forth as the grand remedial agent for the various diseases to which that noble and useful animal, the horse, is subject

Many remedies have been offered to the Public under different forms, some of these are injurious, others at best of little use, and many wholly improper to answer the purposes for which they are recommended.

A judicious and really useful compound, free from those objections, has therefore long been desired by many gentlemen who have valuable horses, and are unwilling to trust them to the care of designing and pretended Farriers. Their wishes are at length fully gratified, by Dr. Beale being prevailed upon to allow this valuable Embrocation (which has proved so efficacious to the various diseases) to be prepared and brought out to the public.

This Embrocation was extensively used by the Government during the war.

Address all Orders to Dr. EDMUND BEALE,
602 South Second Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

MEDICAL ELECTRICITY
BY
DR. WILLIAM BREWSTER,
M'CONNELLSTOWN, PA.

For the benefit of those proposing to undertake Electrical treatment for diseases we give in the following list a few of the more prominent and most common complaints met with in our practice, in all of which we are most successful. In NEARLY ALL CASES OF CHRONIC DISEASE, ELECTRICITY IS A SURE REMEDY, AND IN ALL CASES BENEFICIAL, IF PROPERLY APPLIED. Those, therefore, afflicted with complaints not here enumerated, need have no hesitation in applying, and whether only RELIEF, or a PERMANENT CURE can be effected, they will receive replies accordingly. All communications free.

1 Epilepsy, Chorea, St. Vitus' Dance, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Hysteria, Nervousness, Palpitation of the Heart, Lock-Jaw, etc.
2 Sore Throat, Dyspepsia, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Obstinate Constipation, Hemorrhoids, or Piles, Bilious, Flatulent, and Painter's Colic, and all affections of the Liver and Spleen.
3 Catarrh, Cough, Influenza, Asthma, (where not caused by organic disease of the heart,) Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Rheumatism of the Chest, Consumption in the early stages.
4 Gravel, Diabetis, and Kidney Complaints.
5 Rheumatism, Gout, Lumbago, Stiff Neck, Spinal Diseases, Hip Disease, Cancers, Tumors; (these last named always cured without pain, or cutting, or plasters in any form)

In a word, we propose to cure all curable diseases.

We have no connection whatever with any other Electrical office in this or any other county.

Thoughts for the Farmer.

Good Butter.

If you fail to sell your butter at the highest market price, you may be certain that it is not of the best quality, and that the fault is all in the making. There are a few simple rules, which, if followed strictly, will insure good butter and fair prices—the first, and most important of which is perfect cleanliness in every stage of the process of making. Without this, all other conditions will be fulfilled in vain.

1. Your milk pails, pans, cream pot and churn, must be washed perfectly clean every time they are emptied, and then thoroughly rinsed in boiling hot water, wiped with a clean towel and dried in the sun and fresh air.

2. Before milking, brush the cow's bag before you set the pail under, and get off the loose, fine hairs, which will otherwise fall into the milk; and if the teats or bag are dirty, wash them clean with cold water.

3. Set your milk in a cool, airy place, where it will be secure from smoke, soot, ashes, dust and flies, and take off the cream before it turns to clabber. To get all the cream before the milk turns, it is an excellent plan to set the pails into kettles over the fire with a little water in them, and heat the milk nearly to the boiling point, and stir it before straining. By this means you will get all the cream in twelve hours, perfectly sweet and free from lumps of clabber.

4. Every time you add fresh cream to the churning, stir the whole well together, and keep the cream excluded from all manner of dirt and foul or hot air.

5. When churned, work the buttermilk thoroughly out of it. To do this some work it in cold water, believing that it requires less manipulation to accomplish it, and results in less injury to the grain of the butter, which is injured by excessive working; but if water is used, care must be taken to work that out, or it will be as the buttermilk in its effect upon the butter. Pure rock salt, if ground fine, is as much better for butter as it is for pork in the coarse state. Salt freely, but not excessively. Butter that is too fresh is insipid, however perfect it may be in other respects.

6. Pack closely in perfectly tight, clean crocks or tubs, scalding them thoroughly just before they are brought into use, and keep the butter covered with a strong brine of rock salt.

These rules faithfully followed will cause your butter to be sought after at the highest prices. But if, on the contrary, you wash your milk things in tepid, greasy dish water, wipe them with a greasy dish cloth, and set them for use without scalding—if you let all hairs and dirt go in that will in milking, strain through something that has holes as large as your finger, set your milk where your bacon should be, and where it will catch all manner of dirt, and let it stand till it will stand alone taking off the cream—you need not wonder that nobody wants to buy your butter.—Wisconsin Farmer.

Thinning Fruit Crops.

We once heard a successful raiser and marketer of peaches say that by thinning the crop to about one-third or one-fourth its ordinary numbers on loaded trees, he was still able to obtain as many bushels as before on account of the increased size; and to obtain triple price. During an abundant season his neighbors, who neglected thinning, found it difficult to get fifty cents per bushel, while he sold all his readily at a dollar and a half. All trees that overbear and all that have defective fruit, either from the attacks of insects, or otherwise, will be much improved in the quality of their crops by timely thinning—remembering always to pick off the poorest specimens and leave the best. Even the apple crop, which is cheaper and more abundant than most others, should not be neglected. If any one who doubts will remember for a moment that an overloaded tree has to be finally picked by hand, he will see the propriety of doing a part of his picking so early in the season that the portion left may be improved by the operation.

Suppose, for example, that a tree has at the present moment three thousand growing apples upon it, and that two thousand are small or scabby, or infested with the apple worm or stung by the curculio. If he allows these three thousand all to grow, they will crowd each other, and none of them will be large and fine flavored. But, if suffered to remain, they must all be finally hand-picked, and carefully let down and carried in baskets. Now, instead of this laborious process, let the owners pick off two thousand poor ones, which, requiring no care to keep from bruising, may be done with great rapidity. The remaining thousand, which will then have a chance to swell up in size and become perfect in flavor, may be gathered when mature with far less trouble than the original three thousand. Let the experiment be made now in season.—Country Gentleman.

WHEN the chimneys of lamps become foul, or covered with white dust, that can neither be washed off nor removed in the usual way, rub the inside with whiting and strong vinegar, and then rinse with clean water and wipe them perfectly dry.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebel acts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your father, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. Store on Southeast corner of the Diamond, Huntingdon, Pa.

PROF. H. M'ENTYRE'S GREAT REMEDY,

THE

INDIAN COMPOUND

Internal and External Medicine,

WILL CURE:

☞ Diarrhœa, Bloody Flux in one day.
☞ Headache and Earache in three minutes.
☞ Toothache in one minute.
☞ Neuralgia in five minutes,
☞ Sprains in twenty minutes,
☞ Sore Throat in ten minutes,
☞ Cholic and Cramp in five minutes,
☞ Rheumatism in one day,
☞ Pain in the Back or Side in ten minutes,
☞ Bad Coughs or Colds in one day,
☞ Fever and Ague in one day.
☞ Cures Deafness, Asthma, Piles,
☞ Bronchitis Affections, Dyspepsia,
☞ Inflammation of the Kidneys, Erysipelas,
☞ Liver Complaint and Palpitation of the Heart.

Keep it in your Families—Sickness comes when least expected.

I propose to check, and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other, or all other methods of medical aid in the same space of time.

THIS POPULAR REMEDY is fast coming into use, for the fact that I cure, free of charge, all those complaints whenever there is an opportunity to do so. As soon as it is applied it almost miraculously kills the pain. I do not ask you to buy before you are certain of its efficiency. If you have an ache or pain, it is warranted to do all it purports on the label.

I do not propose to cure every disease—only a class named by my directions. My liniment operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore, applicable, to the cure or natural restorative of all organic derangement arising from an improper circulation of the nerve vital fluids.

Prof. J. H. McEntyre's INDIAN COMPOUND acts directly on the absorbents, reducing glandular and other swellings in incredible short time, without any possible danger from its use under any possible circumstances.

This is an internal and external medicine—composed of roots, herbs and barks, such as our forefathers used.—There is a bountiful supply on earth to cure all complaints if we only know what they were.

This has been a great study with the Medical Faculty for many years, to find out the kinds best adapted to the above complaints—how to put them together, and what proportions to use.

J. H. McENTYRE,
Proprietor, Reading, Pa.

For sale at Lewis' Book Store.

Strawberry Alley, near Third Street,

HARRISBURG,

Respectfully informs the public that he has opened for their use his new and elegantly fitted up Billiard Room. It contains superior to any now in the city.

FOUR NEW TABLES OF SHARP'S MANUFACTURE,

This Billiard Room challenges comparison with any room in the State, west of Philadelphia.

No more Bald Heads!
No more Gray Locks!

DR. LEON'S

ELECTRIC HAIR RENEWER,

Is pronounced by all who have used it the very best preparation for the Hair. It is a positive cure for Baldness, eradicates Dandruff and Humors, stops the hair from falling out, and speedily restores Gray Locks to their original hue and luxuriance.

It operates on the secretions and fills the glands with new life and coloring matter. Thin, dead, faded or gray hair will always be brought back by a few applications, to its youthful abundance, vitality and color.

It makes the hair soft, glossy, fragrant, pleasant to the touch and easy to arrange. Dry, wiry and intractable locks become moist, pliant and disposed to remain in any desired position. As a Hair Dressing it has no equal—The sales are enormous and it is a universal favorite with old and young of both sexes.

Sold by Druggists throughout the United States. Address all orders to
